

Völkerrechtsblog

Der Blog des Arbeitskreises junger Völkerrechtswissenschaftler*innen

≡ Navigation

RANGANATHAN BOOK SYMPOSIUM SYMPOSIUM

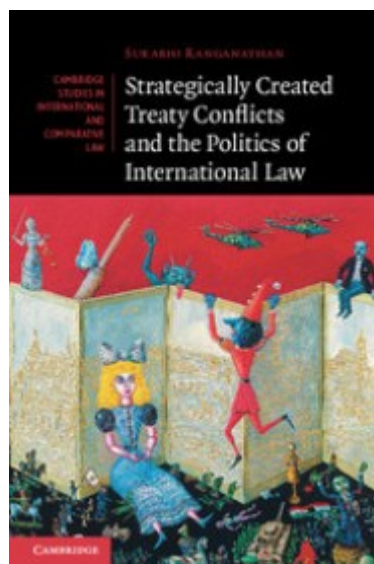

Strategically Created Treaty Conflicts

A Book Symposium

VALENTIN JEUTNER — 30 March, 2016

0 f t g+ p

For the next few days the Völkerrechtsblog is pleased to host an online symposium of Surabhi Ranganathan's recently published book "Strategically Created Treaty Conflicts and the Politics of International Law" (CUP 2014).

Surabhi Ranganathan is a University Lecturer in International Law at the University of Cambridge and a Fellow of King's College, Cambridge. The book will be discussed by Jasper Finke (Hamburg), Jan Klabbers (Helsinki & Rotterdam) and Lea Wisken (Berlin). An introduction by James Crawford (The Hague) and a response by Surabhi Ranganathan frame the symposium.

The Völkerrechtsblog is very grateful to all commentators for their participation.

ISSN 2510-2567

Tags: International Legal Theory, Law of treaties, Norm Conflicts

Related

Ranganathan Book
Symposium: Part 1

30 March, 2016

In "Ranganathan Book
Symposium"

Ranganathan Book
Symposium: Part 5

8 April, 2016

In "Ranganathan Book
Symposium"

Ranganathan Book
Symposium: Part 2

1 April, 2016

In "Ranganathan Book
Symposium"

PREVIOUS POST

“P” for Partnership or “R” for Regime?

NEXT POST

Ranganathan Book Symposium: Part 1

No Comment

Leave a reply

Logged in as ajv2016. Log out?

SUBMIT COMMENT

☐ Notify me of follow-up comments by email.

☐ Notify me of new posts by email.